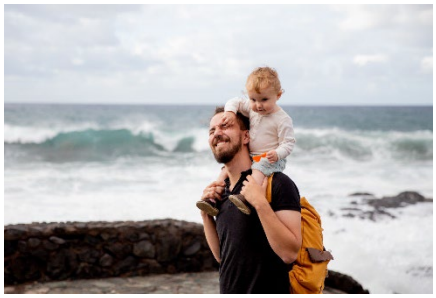
Help for the Previously Incarcerated

California's Child Support Program: A Resource for Parents



The Department of Child Support Services (DCSS) is here to assist with your successful re-entry. There are several ways we can help you deal with your child support issues and help you get back on track.

Get Back on Track:

- Release Your Driver and Other Licenses

  Call us or come to the office to see what you can do to get your license released and help you get back on track.
- Change Your Child Support Order

  If you cannot pay your child support because it is too high, we may be able to change your child support order. Bring proof of your income to our office and request a modification.
- Lower Part of Your Child Support Welfare Arrears

  If you owe back child support because your child(ren) received public assistance, we may be able to reduce part of the arrears you owe.
- Help You Find a Job

  We may be able to direct you to job centers for help with resumé writing, interview skills and job searches.
- Reconnect With Your Children

  We can give you phone numbers of family law clinics that may be able to help you to reconnect with your child.
